

Nationalists Fail In Attempt to Reinforce Island

TAIPEI, Formosa (UPI)—The Nationalists reported that they sank 11 and possibly 12 Communist motor torpedo boats in a wild midnight naval battle off Big Quemoy Island today. But an eyewitness report from the battle scene said Red guns and ships disrupted efforts to reinforce the Nationalist stronghold.

A Defense Ministry communiqué said one Nationalist vessel was hit and towed back to the Pescadores Islands, with 10 men aboard wounded.

THE REDS RESUMED their intensive shelling of Quemoy today or the 11th straight day, with 2,891 shells fired into the island up to midday. The Nationalists were reported ready for anything.

UPI Correspondent Charles Smith, the only U. S. wire service reporter on Big Quemoy in the front line of the current pocket war, said Deputy Quemoy Commander Maj. Gen. Kao Yang-fan predicted an imminent Red invasion of that key nationalist defense link but said the Communists would meet disaster in any such try.

SMITH LANDED with eight other correspondents during the height of the naval battle.

Smith said Kao pinpointed the islets of Tatan and Ehtan just offshore in Red-held Amoy Harbor as the most likely point for the initial Communist thrust.

"We expect an all-out attack in the near future," Kao told Smith. "But we are determined and ready."

HOWEVER, UPI Photographer Normal Williams, who was aboard another craft during the sea fight and was forced to return to the Pescadores without landing at Quemoy, underscored Red strength in the area.

"I emphasize we could not complete the landing of troops and correspondents because of Communist resistance," Williams said in a dispatch from his landing craft.

He said about 30 Nationalist soldiers, the eight correspondents and two Nationalist navy escort officers managed to get ashore while the remainder returned to the Pescadores.

HE ADDED THAT they zig-zagged all the way back because of a submarine alert. Before they left Quemoy, they had been buffeted by winds and waves stirred up by typhoon Grace and attacked by Red artillery and torpedo boats. It was quite an experience, Williams said.

"Fire from the torpedo boats started slowly, but built up within five minutes into a heavy attack against us," Williams said.

"Thousands of red star shells and tracers flew through the sky as the Communists attempted to zero in on our ships."

"THE TRACKERS moved closer and closer, lighting the night sky while a light rain fell."

"Two LCVPs (landing craft, vehicle-personnel) tied up against our ship to receive the first passengers to disembark down the landing nets to go ashore."

"Two small landing craft were partly loaded when the Communist torpedo boats opened fire."

"The attack horn blared on our ship and Capt. Hsu Kwanning shouted 'Cast off landing boats.' Pandemonium followed."

"SOME OF THE debarking passengers were crawling down the landing nets when the landing craft pulled away."

"Cameras, typewriters and bags dropped into the sea as the men scrambled back up the net."

Williams said his landing craft then circled in evasive tactics to escape any torpedo attack, while the two partially loaded landing craft pulled away toward Quemoy. The cameras of many of the correspondents already had dropped into the departing landing craft.

"WE SCRAMBLED back up the nets and dashed inside the cabins for protection from the attack," Williams said.

"We were carrying about 300 troops for Quemoy, but only 30 got into the two landing vessels before the craft were ordered off."

"The Nationalist ship which had been torpedoed was listing badly."

"One Nationalist gunboat engaged a Red torpedo boat close to us with direct fire, while a second Nationalist gunboat hovered near us."

Beating Victim Reported Out of Danger at Hospital

Jay Pickell, 27-year-old Palm Springs Western Union employee, is reported "out of danger" at Desert Hospital today after suffering a severe beating this weekend in a Cathedral City bar.

Arrested on charges of assault to commit bodily harm was Billy Gene Peoples, 31, who, according to police, was recently released on probation after serving a year in San Diego County jail.

Peoples, who was arrested a few hours after the assault which occurred in the Knotty Pine Cafe in Cathedral City, appeared before Judge District Judge Eugene Theriault today and was held on $5,000 bail. He is scheduled to appear for his preliminary hearing in the local court on Wednesday, Sept. 10.

The ex-convict also was charged with the beating of Donald Gardner, the bartender in the bar. Although not hospitalized, Gardner was treated for a split left ear and severe bruises about the head.

SHERIFF'S DEPUTIES said Peoples came into the bar to take a waitress home, and after he was informed that she would not get off work for some time, the fight broke out.

Pickell attempted to join in the fight to help the bartender. Peoples turned his attention to the would-be-rescuer and using both his fists and heavy black oxford shoes, beat him unconscious, deputies said.

Two sheriff's deputies picked up Peoples at the corner of C Street and Date Palm Drive in the early morning hours. He had discarded his shirt, but was wearing blood-spattered pants.

Loses Camera Though

G.I. Braves Guns of Nine East German Policemen

BERLIN (UPI)—An American soldier who faced the guns of nine Communist policemen on the East-West city border was more concerned today with his lost $100 camera than his narrow escape from getting shot.

"It cost a month's pay," said Specialist 4/C Sterling E. Bantle, 20, Pasadena, Calif.

BANTLE'S CAMERA was confiscated at gunpoint Monday when he was taking photographs of a Communist propaganda sign on the border of the American and Soviet sectors of Berlin.

The soldier said he used a headlock and a series of uppercuts to fight off the attempt of an East Berlin policeman to arrest him.

He said he would have saved his camera, too, if a West Berlin border policeman had not told him to "leave the eastern policeman alone."

"THE COMMUNIST policemen tried to grab my camera," Bantle said. "I got a headlock on him, punched him in the face a few times and dragged him about eight yards into West Berlin."

"He never would have got my camera if a West Berlin policeman on border duty had not butted in. Instead of trying to help me, he ran up and shouted at me 'Let him go. You are causing trouble.'"

"I LET HIM GO and then the eastern policeman pulled out his gun and pointed it right at my head. He was young and nervous and he didn't seem to know what he was about. He had trouble cocking his pistol. He didn't seem to know how to do it."

"He demanded my camera and he was so nervous and upset I wasn't going to quarrel with him. I gave it to him. He might have shot me."

"I didn't realize it until then but there were eight other Communist policemen pointing their pistols at me, too. I looked up after I stopped fighting with the one policeman and saw eight others about 20 yards away aiming at me."

BANTLE SAID in addition to the West Berlin policeman who came to the aid of the Communist policeman there were two West Berlin customs guards present "who just stood around and made no move to help me."

The soldier said an examination today of a map of the border area proved he was across the border in East Berlin when the Communist policeman tried to arrest him.

But both Bantle and American officials pointed out that there are no rules against entering the Soviet sector of the city or taking photographs there.

Under four-power occupation agreements western allied nationals may enter East Berlin freely.

Airliner Crashes in British Suburb This Morning, Death Toll Set at 15

Traffic Toll Exceeds 420 Prediction

Remains Lower Than Last Year's Figure of 443

United Press International The last holiday weekend of summer claimed a traffic death toll larger than the National Safety Council estimated, a United Press International count showed today.

But the toll was lower than last year's when 443 persons died in traffic during the Labor Day weekend, and a council spokesman attributed the decrease to "the greatest united effort ever made by traffic enforcement agencies throughout the country to prevent holiday accidents."

THE UPI TALLY showed 422 persons killed in traffic accidents from the start of the Labor Day weekend at 6 p.m. Friday, to midnight Monday night. An additional 109 drownings, 12 persons killed in plane crashes and 78 dead in miscellaneous accidents brought the total holiday head count to 621.

California recorded 47 traffic deaths, high for the nation. Texas counted 29, New York and Ohio each 24, Illinois 22, Pennsylvania 20 and Wisconsin 19.

FOUR STATES turned in perfect records—Rhode Island, Vermont, Washington and Wyoming. The council had estimated the traffic deaths could reach 420. We had hoped our estimate would be way too high," a spokesman said.

Globemaster Crashes Into Pacific Today

AGANA, Guam (UPI)—A C-124 Globemaster crashed into the Pacific today with 18 persons aboard shortly after taking off from Guam for the Philippines.

Three bodies were recovered after an all-out air-sea search centered on an area 50 miles west of Guam. The search got under way shortly after the plane was reported missing.

There were no signs of survivors and search pilots doubted there were any. An Air Force spokesman said "some debris was sighted" by Air Force and Navy search units.

The huge four-engine plane, operated by the Military Air Transport Service (MATS), left Agana at 12:20 p.m. (p.d.t.) Monday en route to Clark Air Force Base in the Philippines.

Six of the 18 persons aboard were crew members.

$1.5 Million Building Pace Set in August

Total for First Eight Months Nears $8 Million

Echoes of a new Village building boom still sounded in the city today as summer ended on a high note for new resort construction.

Construction values soared to $1,501,000 during the month of August, bringing the year's building total to date to $7,738,916, the City Building Department reported today.

LAST MONTH'S building boom eclipsed the $1,115,400 worth of new construction registered in August, 1957, and brought the 1958 total close to the $8,458,444 tallied through August last year.

Heaviest load of last month's construction schedule was carried by residential builders, who started on 46 new homes worth $828,500.

Largest single project of the month was the new Palm Springs Police Building, which was valued at $302,000 on the city building permit application.

TWO NEW COMMERCIAL buildings accounted for $218,000 of the month's total, and 25 new swimming pools, valued at $83,200, brought the city's pool count to 1,678.

Other new buildings for the month included one apartment, $6,000; 20 alterations and additions to Village homes, $27,600; five apartment additions, $13,800; one hotel addition, $9,000; four commercial additions, $7,000, and one storage building, $3,000.

British Use Axes To Repel Boarding Attempt Today

REYKJAVIK, Iceland (UPI)—British fishermen used axes and other weapons today to repel an Icelandic coast guard party that tried to board a British trawler inside the newly established 12-mile fishing limit around this island.

Earlier, other Icelandic coast guardsmen boarded another British trawler in the same area. Within hours, a British Royal Navy frigate in turn took the boarders off the trawler.

The two incidents marked the first open clash of the North Atlantic "fish war" that began Sunday at midnight when the new Icelandic limit went into effect.

Britain Explodes Nuclear Device

LONDON (UPI)—Britain today exploded a powerful nuclear device at high altitude over its Christmas Island testing grounds in the Pacific, the Ministry of Supply announced.

It was the second announced explosion in the current series of British nuclear tests.

PRESIDENT GOES INTO WORK, PLAY SCHEDULE TODAY

NEWPORT, R.I., (UPI)—President Eisenhower went into work-and-play routine today for the remainder of his Narragansett Bay vacation.

He summoned his special counsel, Gerald Morgan, to bring by plane from Washington some bills and other papers for the Chief Executive's action.

The President planned to spend part of the afternoon in his vacation office in the Naval Base administration building on Coasters Harbor Island across Newport Harbor from Ft. Adams where he arrived last Friday for a vacation of indefinite length.

The President must act before midnight tonight on four bills, one of which would provide for some tax relief to theater-goers, sports fans and dues-paying members of community swim-

Thompson, employed by the Cordes Floor Covering Company, is donating 10 days of his time to completely weatherstrip the building. His employer is furnishing all the weatherstripping material necessary for the job, according to Ray Lockwood, club director. Almost ready for dedication, the big clubhouse is all plastered and painted and awaits only the final finishing touches. (Desert Sun Photo)

Tallent Enters Not Guilty Plea

Cabazon Mayor L. Dee Tallent and Mrs. William Breitweg were today ordered to face jury trial here Sept. 30 on charges that they violated the county's rooming house ordinance.

Tallent, 40, and Mrs. Breitweg, 37, both pleaded innocent to the charge in their arraignment before Judge Eugene Theriault this morning.

In today's action, Attorney Merrill Brown, representing both defendants, told the court he plans to file a writ of prohibition, designed to restrain the justice court from proceeding with the trial on grounds that the ordinance is unconstitutional.

Pilots Threaten Strike Against Bonanza Airlines

Possible pilot strike by Bonanza Airlines loomed this week as the Air Lines Pilots Association served notice to the pilots to be prepared to go out on strike shortly after Sept. 1.

The airline, which has some 70 pilots in planes serving Palm Springs and 22 other cities in Arizona, California, Nevada and Utah, said today that it believed "that the entire matter can be worked out" between the pilots and the airline "on a reasonable basis."

EDMUND CONVERSE, president of Bonanza Airlines issued a statement on the release made by the ALPA this weekend.

In his statement he said that "notice of a possible strike has been given to the company and Bonanza plans to continue all its schedules as usual. We certainly hoped that the pilots will realize the seriousness of cutting off the carrier's public service and jeopardizing the entire financial structure and future welfare of the company, without first attempting to conclude an agreement with Bonanza Airlines in line with the DC-3 pilot agreement recently signed with other local service carriers."

THE AIRLINES contract with its pilots expired Dec. 31, 1957, and the National Mediation Board took jurisdiction Jan. 21, 1958, after nearly four months of negotiations broke down. The NMB gave up jurisdiction Aug. 1, after it failed to bring the company and the union together.

"Thus far," said Converse, "ALPA is asking Bonanza, one of the smallest of the local carriers, to pay its pilots wages substantially higher than any local service carrier in the nation is now paying or has agreed for the future to pay for flying comparable aircraft."

"BONANZA'S OFFER, on the other hand, would give its senior DC-3 pilots over $13,000 a year, and would thus place those pilots wages above the average of that being paid to the rest of the local service industry."

"The DC-3 wage dispute," according to Converse, "may not be the real bone of the contention, however, since the union is asking pay of about $17,000 a year for senior captains flying the F-

Businessmen Asked to Check For Possible Bad Checks

Palm Springs businessmen were asked today to look for checks on two San Diego firms, the Dow Chemical Company and San Diego Paper Box Company, which may have been passed in this city late last week.

Two men are in custody in Alhambra after being arrested in India on charges of suspicion of fictitious checks.

DEAN LOUIS Delaney, 43, and Charles Kingston Frazier, reportedly told Alhambra police that they passed checks in Palm Springs, Indio, El Monte, Baldwin Park, Long Beach, Monterey Park, San Gabriel and Los Angeles.

Detective T. M. Aiken said this morning that no checks on these firms had been reported here.

CHIEF OF POLICE Pat Cunningham of Indio arrested the pair this weekend "after a tip that they were carrying fictitious printed checks." Delaney and Frazier were arrested in an Indio hotel.

They were turned over to Alhambra police who were holding a warrant for their arrest for bad checks.

Fire Destroys Knox Residence

MALIBU — (UPI) — Fire destroyed the rambling $75,000 home of the family of football star Ronnie Knox today and the occupants narrowly escaped with their lives.

Fire Follows Wrecking of Six Houses

Many Injured; Pilot Tried Make Field

LONDON — (UPI) — An independent air lines Viking airliner with three persons aboard crashed into the densely populated London suburb of Se-thall this morning.

Seven persons were known killed including a mother and her newborn baby, one other child and three members of one family. Police on the spot estimated the death toll at 15.

THE CRASH demolished three houses and severely damaged three others. Fire roared through the wreckage, fed by gasoline from the crashed plane and sheets of burning gas from a broken main.

An eyewitness said the Viking hit a lamppost before crashing into the close-packed rows of houses. Another man said he saw the plane circling overhead just before the accident.

CRASH SERVICE equipment from nearby London Airport, police ambulances and quantities of fire-fighting equipment were rushed to the scene. But more than an hour after the crash firemen and rescue workers were still unable to learn the exact number of injured.

The pilot of the plane, identified only as a captain named Major, apparently tried to crash the plane on a nearby sports field but ploughed into a row of houses instead. An eyewitness said he apparently made a desperate effort to avoid the houses.

THE VIKING, flying from London to Nice, swept so low over one row of houses that it clipped off television aerials. It struck several lamp posts and trees before falling into Kelvin Gardens Road.

Little Rock Delays Opening Of High School

LITTLE ROCK, Ark (UPI)—The Little Rock School Board handed Gov. Orval Faubus a setback today and gave this city a two-week "breather" in its Negro integration crisis at Central High School.

The board voted 5-1 Monday night to delay Central's opening until Sept. 15 lest it jeopardize its plea to the U. S. Supreme Court to hold up integration here until 1961.

THE ACTION PASSED to Virginia the first test of whether there will be integration violence when its schools open next Monday.

A federal judge in Alexandria hears arguments today on the plea of 30 Negro children for an order admitting them to several previously all-white schools in Arlington.

MISS FLORIDA STARTS GIFT GIVING AT MISS AMERICA PAGEANT

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (UPI)—Miss Florida started an avalanche of gifts pouring down on the Miss America contestants today by presenting Miss California with a potted palm tree.

Miss California responded by giving all 31 of her fellow contenders for the 1959 Miss America title scarf clips in the shape of a mission bell, to remind them all that she hails from Riverside, home of one of the famous early Spanish-American missions.

This exchange, between Sandra Lee Jennings of the Golden West, and Dianne Marie Taucher, of the sunny South, at the six-day Miss America pageant set off a burst of generosity among the girls to see which could make the beauty meet seem more like a birthday party than an all-out contest for the nation's most coveted beauty crown.

DINING IN THE Garden Room of the Palm Springs Biltmore are Palm Springs residents Mary Lee and Jack Sterling of Le Men Plumbing and their guest, James R. Fitzpatrick, the famed director of the Fitzpatrick Travelogue, a motion picture series. Fitzpatrick was a visitor in the Village for a few days this week (Desert Sun Photo).

Indigence among Americans over 65 years of age has dropped in the past 10 years from an average of three persons, out of 10 to less than one in 10.

Everyone Knows It's to Be Done, But by Whom, How

By GEORGE COFFEY

WASHINGTON — (UPI) — Alaska is about to become the 49th state, but what about the flag?

No one has decided officially how to go about putting a 49th star in Old Glory.

The decision has been delayed even though the Alaska statehood bill cleared Congress last June 30 and there never was any doubt about outcome of special referendum in the territory.

SEVERAL SUGGESTIONS have been advanced for adding the 49th star. Some historians said Congress should appoint a commission to re-design the flag. Others maintained this is a presidential prerogative.

The armed services insist that because of their sentimental interest in the flag they should do the re-arranging.

THE FINAL DECISION on how to make room for the extra star probably will be a joint effort. History would give the military the edge.

A bill introduced by Rep. Emanuel Celler (D-N.Y.) late in the last session was meant to clarify the law and procedure relating to the design and dimensions of the United States flag. But it died in the Senate after receiving House approval.

THE CONFUSION over who should get the ball rolling arises from the fact that there is no federal statute which fixes the proportionate dimensions of the flag, including the size and arrangement of the stars.

The House Judiciary Committee, which has been digging into the subject, said that in the past these matters have been regulated by custom. And a pretty fluctuating custom at that.

For example, when Arizona and New Mexico were admitted in 1912, a joint board of Army and Navy officers recommended a plan for reshuffling the stars and President William Howard Taft, by executive order, approved.

BUT WHEN OKLAHOMA was admitted in 1907, the Navy simply wrote the War Department, suggesting that a group of officers recommend a design. After the two departments approved a design, the other agencies adopted it.

Prior to 1907 the military services arranged the stars without executive order or legislation. Generally speaking they followed the basic flag law of 1818 which requires the addition of stars on the 4th of July following the admission of new states.

Scholars on the subject say that is the only definite part of the whole thing: Alaska's star will have to be added by next July 4.

Palm Desert

By GRETCHEN CHEESEMAN

The Palm Desert Players will hold their first meeting of the season at 7:30 p.m., Monday Sept. 12, at the Hut and all members are urged to attend. All interested in this activity are urged to attend.

Mr. and Mrs. Owen Hudson have returned to the desert after a two month vacation. The Hudsons own and manage the Palm Desert Lodge and were on hand for their guests who spent the Labor Day holiday with them.

The Watermans, Georgia and Layton, spent the month of August in Switzerland, Italy and Austria and planned to be in Germany by the first of this month. They are saving Paris and the Brussels Fair for the very last of their tour. They expect to be back by Oct. 15.

Mrs. George (Pat) Anderson is in San Francisco after a summer of traveling. She was in Mexico most of August. She will reopen her desert home the last of this month.

Mr. and Mrs. Al Hintze, the Russell Olds and James Bartons, all of the Sun Lodge Colony, met at Lake Louise this past month. These desert folk will be back here about the middle of October.

Lou Kuehner, manager of the Leisure Loft, is enthusiastic over the reopening on Sept. 8, also of their new location, which is the old Warner Ranch, consisting of 28 acres and four buildings which will allow for expansion of the Leisure Loft activities. In addition to the classes that the Loft already offers, the following new classes will be offered—evening painting, a full-time nursery program, ages two to six years, judo class for men and boys, self improvement class for the teen-agers and ladies, ceramics, baby sitting service and costume rental agency. Classes will resume on Sept. 8; however, a grand opening is planned for the latter part of September.

Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Malone and daughter, Cathy, have spent the month of August in Balboa, as have a number of our Palm Desert residents. Covering the waterfront in Balboa, one sees the Ralph Hales, Ralph Jr., the Milt Pages, who recently moved to Los Angeles, Mrs. Adrian Schwick, Lynn Morgan, Lois MacClymont hosting a party at the Balboa Bay Club.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Bosworth and Briggs are spending most of the summer in San Clemente, as is the Eugene Bertling family.

Mr. and Mrs. Jens Harboe report having a wonderful summer at Carlsbad by the Sea.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Holt have spent the past month in Marblehead, Mass. with their son and family, after a trip through eastern Canada.

News from the Kincaides sounds like a veritable "travelogue!" Complete tour of the British Isles, through France, down to the Riviera, Spain and Italy. They hoped to enjoy sunshine in this last spot, as they had encountered much rain in England.

MRS. ALFRED SCHULTZ, Garden Grove, receives first prize in Thrifty Drug Stores' July Promotion—an all-expense-paid trip for two to London, Paris and Brussels. At right, William Willis, Burbank, takes possession of the keys to a 1958 Hillman Minx Sedan which was the second prize in the contest. The third prize, a Telefunken Hi-Fi radio-phonograph combination, was won by Wiley B. Jones, Bakersfield. Presenting the awards is Bill Henry, director of store operations for Thrifty Drug Stores.

Post Accident Procedure Described by Auto Club

During the excitement which generally follows an automobile accident, persons involved frequently forget to take precautions against further accidents or to get all the necessary information. The following step-by-step procedure, prepared by the Automobile Club of Southern California, can serve as a guide for those who may become involved in traffic accidents:

1. Stop. Do everything possible to protect the car and passengers from further damage.
2. Render first aid and assistance to any injured persons.
3. Give your name, address and license number to the other driver and to any police officer who may be present. Show your operator's license. Be sure to secure this same information from the other party.
4. Find out who is the owner of the other car.
5. Get the names and addresses of any persons who were passengers in the other car.

6. Take down the names and addresses of any persons who were passengers in the other car.

7. Take down the names and addresses of any witnesses to the accident.

8. As soon as practicable, jot down a few notes as to when and where the accident occurred and how it happened. Draw a diagram showing how the car collided and their relative positions in regard to the road, intersection, etc.

9. If the accident occurs in California and involves any injury or death, you must report to the California Highway Patrol, the sheriff's office or to the police within 24 hours.

10. If the accident occurs in California and involves any injury or death or damage to the property of any one person of $100 or more, you must report to the Department of Motor Vehicles within 15 days.

Wayne E. Reasons, son of Mr. and Mrs. Albert L. Funderburk of 5050 Ramon Road, is scheduled to graduate from recruit training today at the Naval Training Center, San Diego.

The graduation exercises marking the end of nine weeks of "boot camp," will include a full dress parade and review before military officials and civilian dignitaries.

In nine weeks of instruction, the "raw recruit" is developed into a Navy Bluejacket, ready for duty with the fleet.

LADY SHOPPERS TO GET BREAK AT NEW CENTER

Lady shoppers will be able to avoid the parking blues at Palm Springs' new regional shopping center.

The 22-acre, $10,000,000 mart being built by millionaire oilman Ray Ryan and Attorney A. R. Simon in the immediate vicinity of Palm Springs City Hall, will have extra spacious parking spaces for milady.

The 2,000-car free parking area will boast 10 foot wide parking spaces instead of the customary 9. This depth is designed to save the fenders of staff drivers who have trouble parking.

Ryan himself is the author of the chivalrous innovation.

The ideographs of the Chinese alphabet are said to number 30,000 or more.

Increase Shown In Investment in Savings Bonds

Riverside County today was disclosed to have made a 10.2 per cent gain in sale of United States Savings Bonds for the seven month period just tabulated.

Sales for the E and H Bonds for the January through July period for 1958 were $1,749,940, as compared to $1,587,560 for the same period of last year. July sales were $261,050.

The report just released by the Federal Reserve Bank totals the July sales of E and H Bonds in Southern California at $16,580,002—and for the January through July period of 1958 at $108,328,068 as compared to $102,312,120 for the same period of last year. The increase for the seven month period is 5.9 per cent.

County Savings Bonds Chairman J. S. Bordwell emphasized that Savings Bonds have become an all-time sustained favorite as an investment "because of the absolute guarantee of return of principle, the 3 1/2 per cent interest when held to maturity, and the indestructible features—replacement of the Savings Bonds if lost, damaged, stolen or destroyed."

He described the $42 billion held in United States Savings Bonds as history's biggest and most widely held security. It is a big asset in every community for individual owners, a general cushion against effects of deflation and a brake on inflation, he added.

GLASGOW, Scotland — (UPI) — A British scientist Thursday announced discovery of a new antibiotic that could open the door to direct attack on polio, influenza, infectious hepatitis and the common cold.

Dr. Alick Isaacs said the antibiotic has worked on animals at his laboratory at the National Medical Research Institute at Mill Hill, London, but has not yet been tried on humans. The big question now was whether it was toxic to human beings, he said.

Congress Accomplished Much During Space-Race Session

Customarily at the close of each session of Congress the news reporters, reviewers and commentators seek to coin a name generally characterizing its predominate moods and actions as an easy reference label when filed in the historical records.

The 85th Congress just ended was most unanimously dubbed the Space Race or Satellite Session.

Begun at the time the first Russian satellites had started the nation and the world with their great speed in orbiting around the earth, the session must be credited with fast responsive action in passing all appropriations and measures requested to speed up the American space program. Good results have already been recorded in the comparatively few months which have passed since, and it is very likely that far greater achievements will result not many months ahead.

Further, the Congress gave approval to the administration proposal for creation of a more centralized control and direction of nuclear developments as well as reorganization of the Pentagon for a closer union of the various branches of the military.

The Satellite Session appellation is thus quite appropriate, but as most Congresses there were a number of other unrelated actions (and omissions) of considerable import and such wide variety as to escape classification under any general heading.

Notable among these, and one for which the 85th Congress will probably be longest noted and remembered in history, was the voting of Statehood to Alaska.

Among the most prominent omissions was the failure to vote Statehood to Hawaii. Also the lack of passage of a Labor Reform measure even though committee probes of large scale corruption and racketeering were featured in the headlines almost every day of the session.

Second only to the Space Race for top billing was the large list of projects and appropriations made to speed up recovery from the now waning recession.

And, strangely converse, were several large hikes to combat inflation. Witness the postal wage increases and raise in mailing rates. Also the boost of 7 percent in Social Security payments and offsetting raise in taxes levied.

Added to all of these major matters, thousands of lesser bills were introduced, considered and many acted upon, to the full credit of the nation's busy lawmakers.

Considering that the administration is Republican, that the majority of members are Democrats, that it was an "election year" and, that all were under budgetary pressure and the strain of unsettled foreign affairs including the almost constant threat of war, the 85th Congress proved to be one of the most cooperative, productive and lastingly constructive in recent years.

Viewing the nation's paramount problems and the manner in which they were met, it can well be said that both the legislative and executive branches of our government gave a fine demonstration of the effectiveness and soundness of our system of American democracy in action during a crucial year of our history.

An Emotional Subject

WASHINGTON, D. C. — No individual lives very many days of life, and perhaps no nation either, without a showdown battle between the head and the heart.

Such a battle took place back on Aug. 14 when the U. S. Senate accepted 85 to 2 a resolution by Senator Dick Russell to the effect that no public funds would support any program or any person that was engaged in studying the possibility of American surrender.

AS A SYMPTOM of our times, the two Senators, Neuberger and Cooper, who voted with their heads, have been the subjects of too much praise in certain newspapers. They have been congratulated, according to printed stories, by the Vice President of the United States, a man within one heartbeat of becoming commander-in-chief, on their intellectualism.

And, it is germane to this important subject to note that about the same time, the "titular" head of the Democratic party was quoted in Oregon as offering a 1958-59 slogan for his party: "Intellectuals of all the world, unite."

THESE TWO viewpoints, the head and the heart, each have a share of respectability. It is becoming increasingly necessary I believe, that men of good will take care to differ without condemning one another's motives. Here is an instance, quite plain to me, where Messrs. Neuberger, Cooper, Nixon and Stevenson are leading with the wrong parts of the anatomy. But it is quite possible for good men to get into such a muddle and wrong-headed postures without being more than temporarily unbalanced.

INTELLECTUALLY, nothing could have been more unnecessary and bombastic than the afternoon of oratory and the bloodless triumph over the imagined concept of American surrender. The subject need not be so unmentionable as all that. After all, there was an American surrender once, at Appomattox Courthouse in April, 1865. And before that, there was some poker-table dickered over terms to end the War of 1812.

Moreover, the Russell resolution was more in the nature of an impromptu singing of the national anthem than of serious Senate business. As an exercise of late-session mentality, you can see how Neuberger and Cooper regarded all this as wasteful motion.

AND YET, EMOTIONALLY and in the highest national interest, no debate and no vote of the entire session seems any more valuable. If we can believe, on the basis of this test, that only Oregon and Kentucky have sent us over-intellectualized Senators, and that the country is forty-four parts heart to one part head, then the USA is here to stay a while longer.

No good American, given the long view of things, would want the U. S. Senate to behave in any other way than the long-suffering way demonstrated.

HAVING SAID THIS much, there remains to take a wronged innocent off the hook. Chief villain of the Senate uproar was the Research and Development (RAND) Corporation, an Air Force agency, which has published a book called "Strategic Surrender" by one of its researchers, Paul Keckmiller.

At the time of the debate I had not seen the book, but it is now before me. It was sent at my request by RAND because of a very pleasant and fruitful experience which may give me some competence in this field. In 1932, while I was writing a book on futuristic aviation, "Tomorrow's Air Age," Lt. General Donald L. Putt, now a deputy Chief of Staff, arranged for me to become a house guest, so to speak, at the Air Force think-shop in Santa Monica. For several days I wandered, read and interviewed with complete freedom. At the end of each day, I dictated my notes into a dictating machine from which copies were made and sent to the staff.

THE ROUSEHOOD quip at the time was that the initials stood for Research and no Development. It is true enough that most of the projects were and are in the realm of pure thought, covering virtually limitless subject-matter in the national interest.

The book "Strategic Surrender," is a highbrow study of how the USA might force an enemy to bend the knee in wars - to come. There are case histories of how France, Italy, Germany and Japan were eliminated from World War II. The volume is addressed to the subject of surrender to this country but not by this country. Its inherent thesis, if it has one, is that the USA can do a lot better than impose "unconditional surrender," a concept of peace - making which our government used in 1865, 1917 and 1945.

HAD PRESIDENTS Lincoln, Wilson and Roosevelt, as well as Generals Grant, Pershing and Eisenhower, been exposed to a book like "Strategic Surrender," it is conceivable that the messy businesses of the Reconstruction Period, the bust-up of monarchical Europe and the calamitous destruction of Germany and Japan, two bulwarks against World Communism, might have been averted.

This country, with its propensity for winning the war and losing the peace, ought to open a lot of books on related matters - before we fight again.

'Sorry, Lunch Time'

This Side of The Sun By Phat

Ah, September. A month that is a hummer. It brings the end of Daylight time. Also the end of summer.

Besides that it had Labor Day, yesterday (sure glad that you got back safely) and Admission Day, a week from today when California will be, as a state, 108 years old.

THREE WEEKS from today, September 23, the sun will take another switch and do an about turn.

That means the end of summer. According to my pet book, the World Almanac, that occurs at 4:10 a.m. our time. That is, Pacific Daylight Time.

That's what's called the Autumnal Equinox.

THEN FIVE DAYS later comes another big day. At 2 a.m. on September 23, we set our clocks back to standard time. And the bars and the patrons who inhabit them will have an extra hour to build up a hangover. Make up for the hour they lost on April 27 when Daylight time went into effect.

LAST WEEK one of the boys in the composing room, probably dreaming of a dry Christmas, reached into the wrong hole and picked out an 'e' instead of an 'o'. So it came out that Alaska was "ballooning" instead of "ballooning" on statehood.

And the guy who was supposed to watch such things, was dreaming of a big Daily Double at Del Mar, and didn't. (Me).

AS A RESULT, the mail was brisk. Among the many notes received calling attention to the faux pas (as if we didn't know it) was one from Rochelle Vitsky of the City Hall staff.

In commenting on the item that Alaska was "ballooning" on statehood, she said that it was too bad that there was no picture.

So she drew one — of a group of Eskimo girls dancing, on their toes.

It was an excellent drawing, too.

EVE RUSSELL of the Western Trust Deed Corporation, in The Center — almost proved that I was wrong when I said there were no baby crickets.

Told me she found one in her office the other day and was going to bring it into The Sun office to prove there were baby crickets.

But, unfortunately, she dropped it, and attempting to retrieve it, stepped on it.

So I still can say truthfully that I never have seen a baby cricket.

(Besides, how does she know? It might have been a midget.)

I GET HOUSE organs and literature from many places, especially railroads. And in the Louisville and Nashville Magazine was this:

"Pa," said little Ted, "what does a man's better half mean?" "Just what she says, son," said pa, "just what she says."

STAN DELAPLANE'S Postcard

The other night I talked to a man with a beard. Beards are all the rage among artists these days. Like among Civil War generals.

"It is an expression of freedom," he said "We reject the right of society to make up conform."

He was a non-conforming poet himself. If a rhyme appeared in his poems, he ripped it right out. It's a free country.

WELL, THIS IS only to say that I am for freedom, but have been getting no help in a long campaign. My campaign has been to get the journals to let me write: "The couple were married."

YOU THINK THAT is easy? Believe me, editors will split your head like an infinitive before they will let you split a couple.

"The couple was married," the editor used to roar at me. "Was! Was! Was!" "Can I say: 'It went on its honeymoon'?" I asked.

One thing I can tell you: Go around rejecting social graces like these and you will get a lot of rejection slips.

I DID NOT RAISE a beard when I was non-conforming and rewriting the language. But I would have if it would have done any good.

Journalism beats these rules into you. Even the word "couple" sets me in the shakes.

Some years ago, a journalist friend named Donaghy was in his hotel room in the middle of the night, he rose and opened the bathroom door and stepped in. He heard the spring lock click behind him and opened his eyes. He found he was in the corridor. Wrong door.

"I SLEEP RAW," said Bill. "And there I was without a key in my pants pocket. For the simple reason that I had no pants."

He was a resourceful man. He tip-toed down the hall to find the gentleman's lounge and possibly a towel. "That hotel didn't even have paper towels." Finally he went down 14 flights of stairs and hissed over the banister at the night clerk.

"ALL THE WAY down," said Bill. "I could see the headlines: 'Red-Haired Fiend Nabbed in Hotel Lobby.'"

It all turned out happily. But the point I remember is this: "Red-Haired," he said.

It is against the ground rules of journalism to say "Red-head." A redhead is a person with their hair painted red. Or possibly an American Indian.

Even in this horrid dilemma, the rules did not desert Bill. Not even in his dreamy headline.

IN MY CAMPAIGN to split couples, I tried gimmicking divorce stories.

"The couple, which was married last year, was divorced by Judge Splitter. It left the courtroom by different doors."

The editor said I was sabotaging the First Amendment. Free press.

I said I was interested in freedom.

HE SAID I WAS with a split hair of getting it — without getting away pay.

We came to no conclusion. Our couples remained wedded singularly.

"What they do after that is their own business," said the editor. "Now shut up and give me 14 lines on the weather."

I didn't bother to point out that it was not THEIR own business. It was ITS own business.

EARL WILSON:

Tramps, Tramps, Tramps

NEW YORK — Do you remember tramps?

Hoboes, they called them, too. "Bo," sometimes for short. "Bums." "Fel" was on the "Bum". "Riding the Rods". "Beggin' for a handout — "For a free meal" — At your mother's back door.

Do they still exist?

We don't have them much here in the Big City. A "tramp" in New York is a loose woman you meet with some millionaire in a nightclub.

All this came up at a party the other night where I met somebody who knew my home town, Rockford, O.

That's always a kick in itself. This nice woman, Mrs. William Moore, of Newark, O., was born in Ohio City, O., which metropolis, if you please, is seven or eight miles from Rockford and Van Wert, and if you haven't been to those towns, why, you haven't been around much! They're close to Lima, O., and Fort Wayne, Ind., which are right in the middle of God's country.

"You're really from that part of Ohio?" she asked me. "Look here!" I pulled out my driver's license, issued to me in Defiance, O., where my mother and father lived until my father died.

"Although," I whispered, "when I was growing up, we didn't need a driver's license in Ohio. You just got in a car and drove!"

"My mother," Mrs. Moore said, "used to feed the tramps who got off the freight trains in Ohio City."

And that brought a whole flood of memories. There was "A. No. 1. The Famous Tramp," who was probably the first King of the Hoboes. He would distinguish certain box cars by writing his mark on them in chalk. He wrote books.

Jim Tully — who came from around Van Wert, by the way — wrote several fine books about "Road Kids" (as they were also called).

He became a darling and biographer of Hollywood.

He and Jack Dempsey, who'd also bummed, scheduled a Road Kids' Convention here, Jim, who'd come from Hollywood to attend it, celebrated too much and wound up in Washington the night they served Mulligan stew.

"Tramp stories" were part of American humor then.

There was the one about the ingenious tramp who came to a back door and, after announcing he was hungry, asked if he might eat the grass in the front yard.

"Eat it here in the back yard," replied the lady of the house, "where it's longer."

Panhandling is a lost art in New York, too. There used to be a white, bearded old character who'd sidle up and say, "Would you be willing to assist junior in the condition of his exchequer? He's looking for work and afraid he'll find it."

But he's gone, and so, I guess, are tramps. So maybe America's improving after all.

By the way, the woman from Ohio City, O., said, "you're very loyal to still use an Ohio driver's license."

"It's not that," spoke up my beautiful wife helpfully. "The way he drives, he couldn't get one in New York."

EARL'S PEARLS: College time's going to soon be here again, and we hope all young folks will remember they must burn the midnight oil, but not if it's in the car.

WISH I'D SAID THAT: "The only business that makes money without advertising is the mint" — Henny Youngman.

TODAY'S BEST LAUGH: We've seen a lot of definitions about middle age, but have about decided that middle-aged is what you admit you are when you're really old-aged.

A poll just conducted in Las Vegas revealed that the most unpopular way of making money nowadays is by working. That's earl, brother.

Chief himself is strictly FBI-Full-Blooded Indian!

CHANNEL CHATTER — TV galloper Bill Bishop went galloping down to Malibu to go skin-diving and come up with two sea bass and a slipped disk.

Gregory Peck's next big party to publicize his "Big Country" will be telecast in New York: a square dance in the skating rink at Rockefeller Center.

"A Twist of Lemmon" was the title of Jack Lemmon's last LP album. His next (Billy Wilder gave him the idea for the title) will be "Lemmon-Aid" for Thirsty Lovers. Dan Duryea, on a disking kick too, recorded a middle-aged rocknroll for Hi-Fi-Records called "Teenage Daddy-O," and is there no END?

GEORGE Gobel's idea for a re-make to end all re-makes: "Three Men on a Horse" with Jimmy Stewart, Gary Cooper, Randolph Scott and a long, skinny horse.

Marlon Brando's ol' buddy, George Englund, now producer of Eddie Fisher's new-ason teleseries, goes along with Shakespeare's "The Pl—"s the Thing!"

No guests in Eddie's new story-type series, except when they fit in with the format; otherwise they'll have their own spots in each segment (a singer, for instance, will sing) — and I'm sure all them stems from all those plugs they squeeze in, even when they're as painless as that record album Eydie Gorme flashed at us Viewers Sunday before last and that plug Rowan & Martin wound into the same Sunday's Chevy Show for "Once Upon a Horse," their new movie.

Who believes it now says when a star says his own album, movie or what-have-you is good? The trick, it seems to me, is letting somebody ELSE say it — but please, boys, keep 'em painless!

SPEAKING OF ROWAN & Martin, the boys will film an audition show, their first, next Monday with Gretchen Wyler. Pilot film will also be a first for NBC-TV — it's the network's initial pilot on its new, inexpensive tape.

Denise Crosby put his foot down and told ABC not to identify him in its advertisements and announcements of his new deejay show as "Bing Crosby's son" — not that he dislikes his dad — he just wants to make it on his own — and who can blame him?

BACK IN HOLLYWOOD after 10 years in New York, teevie producer Charles Vanda was asked if he's found many changes. "Not many," he said, "except that the girls I knew 10 years ago are three years older!"

Susan Hayward shrugged it off when I caught her reading a book on astrology on California Studio's "Thunder in the Sun" set: "Just passing the time — I've never really taken it seriously, not since one of them forecast Stevenson for President — TWICE!"

PRODUCER ROBERT Hardy Andrews was very happy about his new air-conditioned office at MGM until he came down with pneumonia. . . . Jimmie Rodgers, same studio, is getting $40,000 (but NOT the girl!) for his starring role in "Good Girls Get Married" formerly "How Good Girls Get Married," previously "Snob Hill."

Producer Mervyn Roy finally let me in on the real reason he roped Chief Yowach for a role in "The FBI Story": The

Hollingers Return From Vacation Trip

Mr. and Mrs. Johnny Hollinger and their three children, Dana, Andy and Rusty, have just returned from a two weeks vacation trip.

They spent a few days with former Villagers Mr. and Mrs. Ed Sargeant in Salmon, Idaho. Sargeant took Johnny and the boys into the primitive country surrounding Salmon where they caught an abundance of fish, some of which they froze to bring home with them.

On the return journey they stopped off in Yellowstone, the High Sierras, and at Carson City visited with the Ned Mitchell family (he was formerly with the Indian Offices here.)

An exciting and unexpected event were the two landslides which occurred between Bishop and Bridgeport, due to the heavy rains, which kept them prisoners in a small country store for a couple of hours.

They also ran into the Leo Wilkes who are on vacation up north.

Eugene Olsen Returns From Far East Tour

Eugene Olsen, 3rd class radio-man, was aboard one of the three cruisers which arrived in Long Beach last week after a seven months tour of duty in the Far East.

The Olsens, who have been travelling in Europe, expect to be back in early September to spend time with their son.

Give Youngsters a Regular Voice in Their Meal Planning

By JEANNE LEBEM
United Press International

NEW YORK (UPI)—Talk "turkey" with Junior. The family consultation is the key to the well-balanced diet for the school child, says nutritionist Elizabeth D. Munves.

Dr. Munves, an associate professor at New York University's School of Education, says mothers would have less trouble with their youngsters' appetites if they gave the children a regular voice in meal planning.

"I often wonder, too, how much parents guide their youngsters' choices in packing or buying lunch," she said in an interview. "If a child is going to fix his own lunch or buy it at school, tell him in advance what you're having for dinner."

This technique helps prevent complaints or loss of appetite at the evening meal because of duplication, she explained.

If the number one problem with the child is at breakfast, maybe you're not giving enough time for a good meal in the morning. Let children know there is ample time to eat and get to school, she urged, and get up early enough yourself so that there is no need to rush.

At night, set the table and lay out clothing to help everyone off to a good start next day.

Teen-agers who turn up their noses at the conventional breakfast foods—cereal, eggs, bacon and toast—may find their appetites again if you vary the menu with cheese on toast or a regional specialty, such as fish or fish cakes, she said.

The after-school snack also calls for strategy. If mother has sandwiches ready for the icebox raider, or sandwich mixes made from leftovers, school children will be less apt to fill up on pretzels, chocolate doughnuts and packaged cookies and cake.

Left to their own devices, teen-agers and many younger children will pick up "empty calories," Dr. Munves explained, and while they do need lots of calories for growth, they can get these with extra nutrients—vitamins and minerals—if their snack-time selection is planned carefully.

Miss America Is Already A Somebody

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J. (UPI)—Fifty-one ambitious beauties are in town to compete for the 31st "Miss America" title, and there won't be a loser in the bunch.

Only one of the pulchritudinous lassies will emerge with the 1959 beauty crown the night of Sept. 6—but none of the 50 other contestants will go home empty-handed.

Each will emerge richer than when she began the trek up the beauty contest trail.

The top winner stands a strong chance of finishing her year-long reign at least $50,000 higher on the economic ladder. She will start with a $5,000 scholarship, and go on from there.

But all the girls already have had their bank accounts fattened as a result of their participation in the search for the most beautiful, most poised and most talented miss of the year.

Many of the entries are old hands at the contest game, having won prizes for everything from raising pigs to dressmaking, and "beauty title" that include "Miss Blockbuster," "Miss Favorite Freshman" and "Queen of the National Date Festival."

Miss Lenora S. Slaughter, executive director of the pageant, estimates the girls already have won a total of more than $250,000 in scholarships just working their way through the preliminary steps on the road to Atlantic City.

"Miss North Carolina," Betty Lane Evans, 18, of Greenville, leads the pack, with $4,250 in scholarships. Betty is a church organist. Her father is a church elder. Her mother is a former beauty queen.

Every state except Montana and Wyoming will be represented in the five-day competition, which begins Tuesday, Sept. 2. In addition, there will be "Miss New York City," "Miss Chicago," "Miss District of Columbia," "Miss Hawaii" and "Miss Canada."

The contest "old-pros" among the girls includes Lee Thornburg, 21, Birmingham, "Miss Alabama," who won a trip around the world to entertain troops as a result of an NBC national talent competition.

There also will be Donna Juanita Riggs, 20, "Miss Arizona," of Phoenix, who was homecoming queen at junior college, and "Miss California," Sandra Lee Jennings, 18, of Riverside, who has been 20-30 Club Queen, Diamond Jubilee Queen, Queen of the National date Festival and Queen of the County Fair.

"Miss Idaho," 18-year-old Bonnie (Bon-Bon) Leila Baird, a Heyburn music teacher, has won 75 blue ribbons in County and state fairs for 4-H club projects, two speech contests and two modeling contests. Anita Ruth Olson, 20, of River Forest, "Miss Illinois," was queen of an all-star football game and was "Miss Favorite Freshman" at Northwestern University.

Jeanne Lucille MacDonald, 20, "Miss Iowa," from Ames, has been "Navy Queen of Armed Forces Day" at Des Moines and "Bomb Queen."

VACATIONING IN THE Paradise of the Pacific are Mr. and Mrs. John Q. McClure and grand-son, William McClure West, who are again guests at the Royal Hawaiian Hotel on the beach at Waikiki. On this, their eighth visit the McClures plan to spend the entire two weeks just relaxing before they return to the Mainland. (Royal Hawaiian Hotel Photo)

25 Lose Lives Over Labor Day In Southland

United Press International
Twenty-five persons lost their lives in accidents in Southern California over the long Labor Day week end which started 6 p.m. Friday and ended midnight Monday.

Traffic accidents claimed the majority of the deaths, 18, with drownings taking six lives and a plane crash one life.

FIVE TRAFFIC fatalities and two drownings were reported throughout Southern California Monday. All other accidental deaths in the area occurred earlier in the week end.

Those injured fatally Monday included Melvin Smith, a 19-year-old sailor stationed at San Diego, and Myron C. Dumas, 40, Pomona whose vehicle collided head-on with a gasoline truck near Ocean-side.

The others included Frank Angerbrant, a 21-year-old Camp Pendleton Marine; Elaine Rayfield, 34, Long Beach; and Mrs. Mary Rouhana, 64, Los Angeles.

THE TWO DROWNINGS occurred in San Diego County. Victims were Joe Riley and Janet Dennie, Los Angeles County led the Southland in the number of traffic deaths with six, an unusually small number for a three-day week end.

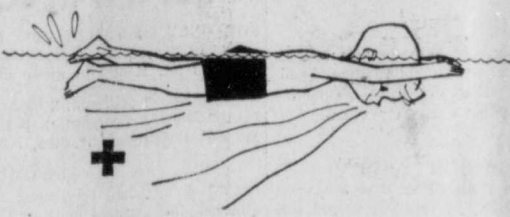

Riverside and San Diego Counties followed Los Angeles with four traffic fatalities each and San Bernardino County came next with three traffic deaths. Orange County had one traffic death.

Being First Not In Vogue Now
LONDON (UPI) — Walter Hammond has been a gravedigger at the Walpole St. Andrews, England, cemetery since the one-acre plot was opened 20 years ago, but nobody has been buried there yet. "Nobody wants to be first," Hammond complained.

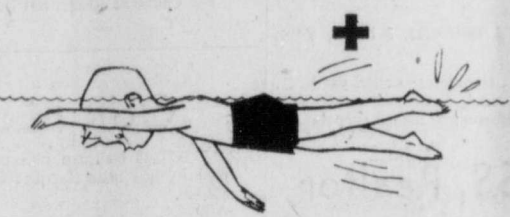

The National Park Service looks after 792 pieces of property in the capital city of Washington, D.C. The public sites include the White House, Washington Monument, Lincoln Memorial, Rock Creek Park, parts of the Chesapeake and Ohio Canal, and numerous statues.

TEACHING JOHNNY TO SWIM

SERIES TWO

Next step in teaching Johnny to swim is instruction in the prone kick glide or "steamboat." Have him lie face down on a bench, table, bed, or other flat surface and, keeping his legs straight but not stiff, move them up and down in a slow, even motion. When he (and Jimmy) can do this, have them get in waist-deep water, and with one boy towing the other by the hands, have them practice this kick. After practice, they should try it on their own.

Now for the arm stroke, called the human stroke. Have Johnny keep his arms under water and reach forward, first with one arm and then the other, as if he were crawling. As the right arm goes forward, the left hand should come back and touch the lower part of the chest. Combine the arm and leg movements and keep the face in the water at this time.

Now Johnny is ready to try an armstroke (the human stroke) and combine it with the kick and breathing to do a complete stroke on the front. Arms are kept below the surface. As he moves his right arm forward, he turns his face left out of the water to breathe, as in this picture. He kicks in regular motion.

San Francisco's Chief Dies Of Heart Attack at Game

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — Police Chief Frank Ahern, the "tough cop" who saw to it that San Francisco remained a closed town, died of a heart attack Monday while watching a baseball game. He was 58.

Ahern collapsed in a box seat at Seals Stadium while watching the 15th inning of a game between the San Francisco Giants and the Los Angeles Dodgers. He was on the first day back from his vacation.

DR. ROBERT PALMER, the Giants' physician, rushed to Ahern's side and had him removed to the stadium first aid station where he died at 6:45 p.m. His wife, Gertrude, was at his side. Mrs. Ahern said her husband had been suffering from a mild heart condition, but there was no indication he was in serious danger.

TWO ROMAN CATHOLIC priests, who were sharing Ahern's box, administered the last rites of the church. They were Father William Stewart and Monsignor William Flanagan.

After his death, Ahern's body was taken to Mission Emergency Hospital to await funeral arrangements.

Ahern is also survived by two children, Bernadette, 20, a student at San Francisco College for Women, and Francis Joseph, 15.

Classes Start Today at Air Force Academy

COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo. (UPI) — Classes began today for 1,145 cadets at the U. S. Air Force Academy's 135 million dollar modern campus north of this mountain-flanked Colorado City.

The cadet wing moved in over the Labor Day weekend from the academy's temporary location at Lowry Air Force Base near Denver, 70 miles to the north.

A FORMAL REVIEW Monday officially inaugurated the new campus in the shadow of the Rocky Mountains and famed Pikes Peak.

The cadets dressed in summer white with gold sashes and carrying swords, heard the academy superintendent, Maj. Gen. James E. Briggs, read a congratulatory letter from President Eisenhower.

OTHER MESSAGES came from acting Defense Secretary Donald A. Quarles, Air Force Secretary James H. Douglas and Air Force Chief of Staff Gen. Thomas H. White.

Twelve cadets collapsed in ranks because of the 85 degree heat. One of them fainted three times but all revived in time to participate in the final review.

Surf Bathers Set Records Escaping Whale

MALIBU, Calif. (UPI) — Surf bathers by the hundreds scrambled to shore in record time Monday when a 40-foot killer whale cruised just beyond the breakers along Zuma Beach.

Lifeguards, alerted by a warning flashed to the 11 stations in the area, said they didn't have much difficulty clearing the water once the holiday crowd spotted the whale's dorsal fin.

Once, according to county lifeguard Capt. Kirby Temple, the whale surfaced near a man on a surf mat.

"He swam for his life," Kirby said. "That fellow set a record coming into the beach."

The lifeguard said the whale was considered dangerous with a reputation of attacking everything—even boats. He estimated 60,000 persons were on the beach when the whale turned and swam to sea.

Wife Concerned Over Raft Lehi
RODONDO BEACH, Calif. (UPI) — The wife of Devere Baker, skipper of the raft Lehi IV, was becoming "very concerned" today for the safety of her husband and the crew who set out seven weeks ago for Hawaii.

Mrs. Baker has not heard from the 18 x 28 $30,000 raft since it was towed to sea by the fishing boat "Redeemer of Israel" to catch the Japanese current and float about 2,200 miles to the islands.

"I am beginning to be very concerned because no ships have sighted the raft yet," she said.

Order Tattooed Man Covered

CIVITAVECCHIA, Italy (UPI) — Constantino Z'nu, 31, has been forbidden to wear a bathing suit in public — by order of the police department here.

Officers said tattoos on his chest, back and arms are objectionable.

TODAY'S SPORT PARADE

By OSCAR FRALEY
United Press International

FOREST HILLS, N. Y. (UPI) — They all fear they may be cut down by the "Little Saber" in the U.S. amateur tennis championships being played at Forest Hills today.

The "Little Saber" is Maria Esther Bueno, a lithe 18-year-old kindergarden teacher out of Sao Paulo, Brazil. She moves like a cat and hits the ball like a man and only a newcomer's inconsistency will stop her this first time around.

BUT MARK MARIA well for the future because all the experts predict this dark-haired girl will be the next of the "great" women's tennis champions, fit to stand with such as Helen Wills Moody, Alice Marble, Pauline Betz and Maureen Connolly.

It is not strange that they deny this accolade, to Althea Gibson who currently is shooting for her second straight Wimbledon - U.S. slam. Miss Gibson is the best of a bad lot. She doesn't have the power and the speed of those in the past and her backhand is brittle and unreliable.

ALTHEA IS MAKING her last time around before trying a singing career which, music experts say, has to be based on her reputation rather than her voice. Althea, at 31, is stepping out in time to preserve her reputation. For come next year the one they'll all find unbeatable is the "Little Saber."

Maria gave more than sufficient evidence of her talents this year on her first full-time tournament whirl, winning 18 tournaments.

IN THE PROCESS this daughter of a Brazilian veterinarian knocked off the No. 1 women players of seven nations.

She started playing tennis with her brother, Pedro, at the age of 10. When she was 12 she won her first tournament but, being a dutiful daughter, followed Papa's wishes that she become a teacher.

LAST YEAR SHE hit the "sunshine circuit" by playing in the Caribbean and in Florida. Then she went back to teaching. But this year she hit the tournament trail for good, inspired by the fact brother Pedro won the N.A.A.A. "little college" tennis championship for Lamar Tech in Texas.

Her rise has been rapid and Maria, basking in the adulation of success, really has zeroed in on this tennis dodge.

"THE TOUR IS thing and sometimes I get homesick," she says. "But I like tennis better than teaching, or anything. So I'd like to keep at it for another 10 years."

One year the experts think, is all she needs to hit the top and there are those who aren't counting her out even as a freshman. But all of them agree the "Little Saber" will slash her name high in the tennis history books before she is through.

Score 142 In Meet at Indian Wells

68 Compete In First Event Of New Season

Bill Adkins of Thunderbird and Mike Danka of Palm Springs were low gross scorers in the Indian Wells low ball twosome tournament this weekend with a 2 under-par 142 for the 54-hole play.

The first tournament of the new winter season, some 68 players turned out on the final day, Labor Day.

IN SECOND PLACE after yesterday's play were Ted Morgan and Chuck Nugent with a 1-under-par 143.

Although the warm afternoons worked to some disadvantage to the players, the green turf and cool breeze in the cove south of Palm Desert brought many players out.

Eddie Susalla, manager and vice president of Indian Wells Country Club, said today that he was going to continue the PGA Hole-in-One Tournament over to next Saturday, as no one qualified this weekend.

IN THE TOURNAMENT a golfer can pick any hole on the course of 109 yards or more and try his skill. His score is recorded and the one closest to getting a hole-in-one will win a beautiful PGA Trophy. The score is also entered in the national competition for a second trophy.

Yesterday's play was the final day of play in the Indian Wells choose-up tournament which lasted over the Labor Day weekend.

Saturday's best ball foursome tournament drew a total of 62 contestants. The winning foursome, with a score of 18 under par 54, was composed of Harold Pettinger, Pat Martin, Harry Weimer and Pat Cunningham.

THE FOLLOWING day, Sunday, 54 contestants chose up partners for a best ball twosome, and Ralph Kiner and Jim Walsh smashed a 12 under par 60 to come up with the low score of the day.

Each day of the three day tournament was recorded separately, preceded on Friday by a practice round for the golfers.

Buhl Returns, Braves Favored

By JOHN GRIFFIN
United Press International

Bob Buhl's sudden and amazing return to pitching stardom made it more likely than ever today the Milwaukee Braves will be favored over the New York Yankees in this year's World Series.

While the Yankees, who suffered their first "losing month" in Casey Stengel's 10-year managerial reign during August, stumbled into September still in search of starting pitchers, Buhl returned to action Monday and hurled an impressive 2-1 triumph over the Chicago Cubs in the first game of a doubleheader.

BUHL, AN 18-GAME winner two straight seasons, had been on the shelf since May 13 with a sore shoulder — but he came "all the way back" in one stunning game. Buhl's victory, which adds him to the long list of Braves' starting pitchers including Lew Burdette, Warren Spahn, Carlton Wiley and Joey Jay, made unhappy reading for Stengel, who still is looking for somebody to back up Bob Turley, his 20-game winner and only dependable starter.

THE BRAVES' 9-3 second game loss to the Cubs, in which Bob Rush was battered, didn't make things any brighter for Stengel. The Yankee skipper, after seeing Bobby Shantz beaten by the Red Sox, 4-2, in their opener, got a 4-2 win in the nightcap from Duke M'as, who hardly figures now as a Series pitcher.

In the other holiday twin bills:

DETROIT SWEPT two from

Kansas City, 7-4 and 5-1; Baltimore defeated Washington, 2-0 and 10-1; Cleveland beat the Chicago White Sox twice, 6-5 and 7-1.

The San Francisco Giants took second place in the National League by sweeping Los Angeles, 8-6 and then 6-5 in a 16-inning thriller; Pittsburgh dropped to third by losing to Philadelphia, 9-0, after winning the opener, 5-2; and St. Louis beat Cincinnati, 9-3, after losing the opener, 1-0.

Gridders Have As Many Fights As Touchdowns

GREEN BAY, Wis. — (UPI) — Some National Football League teams are having trouble scoring touchdowns in pre-season games this year, but they could give several current boxers lessons in throwing punches.

There were almost as many fights as touchdowns Monday during the Green Bay Packer's 20-7 Eagles. There were three fist fights and one almost touched off a full-scale player brawl.

The officials finally tossed Bill Forester, Packer guard, and Len Szafaryn, Eagle tackle, out of the game for fighting. Earlier, Forester and quarterback Norm Van Brocklin of the Eagles brought players swarming off both benches when they began swinging.

Softball Title Series Set to Start

Opening Game To Be Tonight At Polo Grounds

One of the year's best championship softball duels unfolds at the Polo Grounds tonight when Biltmore Hotel tackles Desert Hot Springs-Mhoon and Mhoon in the final game of the annual resort area playoffs.

Following up its near championship performance in the annual county league playoffs, Biltmore last week twice clobbered M&M-Lehrfeld in elimination games for tonight's final playoff.

Demonstrating some of the year's greatest pitching, Biltmore hurler Neal Green fanned 29 batters Wednesday to lead his Desert Softball League champions into the finals.

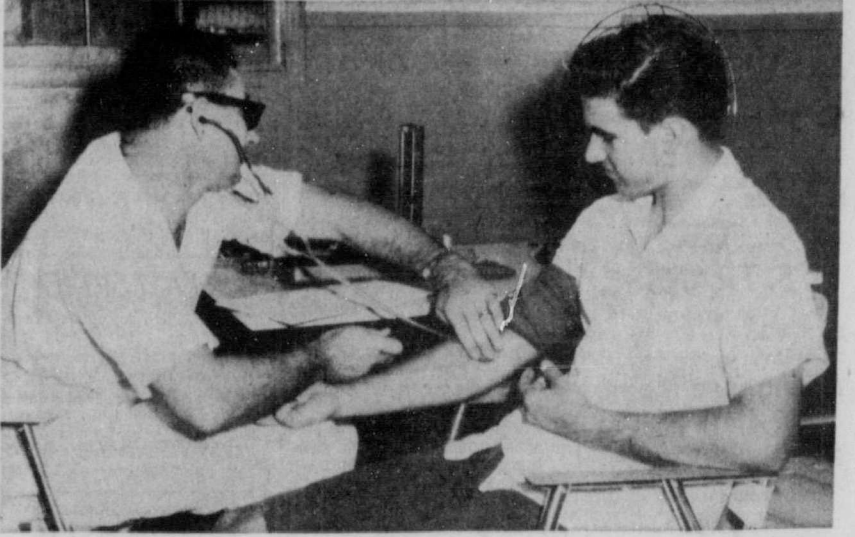

Scoring two stunning upsets, DHS-Mhoon and Mhoon belied its fourth-place standing in the league by belting Mexican Colony out of contention for the playoff in last week's games.

Orioles Buy Players

BALTIMORE, Md. (UPI) — The Baltimore Orioles bought first baseman Bob Hale, who was hitting .308 and outfielder Chuck Certei, hitting .317, from their Louisville farm club of the American Association Monday.
